DIRIGIBLE ROMA EXPLODES; FOUR LIVES ARE LOST

FOURTEEN ARE REPORTED MISSING—SHIP CARRIED A CREW OF THIRTY

THE RUDDER BROKE AND SHIP DESCENDED AND NOSE DIVED INTO GROUND

(By United Press.)
Norfolk, Va., Feb. 21.—The dirigible Roma exploded at 2 p. m. today with a loss of at least four lives. Fourteen persons were reported missing, but the report was unconfirmed. The ship carried a crew of thirty as it left Langley Field.

The rudder broke and it circled over the army base, and it descended slowly to the earth. As the nose plowed into the ground, a terrific explosion occurred, which shook the frame of the dirigible, and then it was involved in flames. Four bodies were picked up. The heat was so intense as to render rescue work impossible, and until the fire is extinguished, it will not be known how many are dead.

The Roma was purchased by the United States from the Italian government. It was brought to this country aboard a ship after the disaster to the dirigible ZR-2, purchased from Great Britain.

The huge airship was making a series of test flights. They had been planning to take it on a tour over the whole United States.

Would Smash Record
Norfolk, Va., Feb. 21.—An attempt was to be made by the Roma to smash the world's record for speed with the dirigible. Langley Field operators confidently expected the Roma to make 90 miles an hour on the trip. The accident took place two hours after she left the field.

AIRPLANES CAPTURE BRITISH SCHOONER WITH WHISKEY CARGO

11,500 CASES OF WHISKEY SEIZED ON CAPTURED BOAT NEAR MIAMI, FLORIDA

Miami, Fla., Feb. 21.—The British schooner Annabelle was seized late yesterday off Jewish creek, about 40 miles south of Miami, with a cargo of 11,500 cases of whiskey aboard, by airplanes of the prohibition squadron operating out of Miami and adjacent coastal towns, it was learned today from officials here.

The entire crew of 21 men was captured and now is being held under surveillance, while the confiscated liquor is under guard aboard the schooner, which is anchored off Jewish. The crew offered no resistance when the flying machines, with their machine guns pointed at the schooner from all directions, swooped down on the vessel.

Battleship Gray
Eleven airplanes, painted a battleship gray, gradually made their way down the coast last week, it became known here today, one of them under command of Captain Rogers, stopping at Miami. Others stopped at St. Augustine, Jacksonville, Charleston and other points.

Advance information was furnished by scouts aboard subchasers which got the location of the Annabelle and Sunday a number of planes gathered near Jewish and at a signal, gathered simultaneously over the alleged whiskey carrier.

Wireless Aids Capture
A Captain Johnson, who brought the report here, stated that the prohibition squadron was equipped with a wave code which no other wireless apparatus could interpret and this is used exclusively in the sending and receiving of official messages. In the stern of each airplane is a Colt-Browning machine gun capable of firing 400 shots a minute, manned by expert gunners.

MAX OSER COMES TO VISIT HIS NEW RELATIONS

(By United Press.)
Chicago, Feb. 21.—Max Oser, of Switzerland, came to Chicago to visit his new "relations" but he didn't get past the front door.

Max Oser, whose engagement to Mathilde McCormick, 16, which has just been announced, just wanted to meet and welcome his new relations into the family he said.

"I didn't bring mama along with me because she is tied up with the family washing," Max apologized to the reporters.

When he went up to the McCormick mansion, he rang the bell. Then he extended his hand when the door was opened. "America knows how to take care of her war heroes," was his first thought. He thought the butler was a war hero because he was dressed like a Balkan general. "I am Max," he continued, "and I came to pay my respects to my new relations. In the old country we always make these before the wedding. Maybe Mr. McCormick will give me a job," he continued.

The butler gave out the news that Mr. McCormick was not seeing any one today.

"Perhaps another day then. I want him to feel welcome in the family. There is nothing stuck up about us," he said.

HARDING FAVORS POSTPONING BONUS BILL TO NEXT YEAR

(By United Press.)
Washington, Feb. 21.—President Harding is "strongly in favor" of postponing the soldier bonus legislation until next year, it was learned on reliable authority today.

The president communicated his view to a Republican senator who called at the White House. He did not say that he would veto a bonus bill if it is sent to him, but indicated he might do so if protests continue to reach him. What Harding wants to know, it is reported, is whether the opposition is to the bonus bill itself, or only against paying the bonus by special taxes which the senate and the house conferees originally decided upon.

IS WALL STREET TRYING TO STEAL FILM INDUSTRY

SAID FILM INDUSTRY AND HENRY FORD ONLY BIG INTERESTS NOT CONTROLLED BY STREET

(By United Press.)
Los Angeles, Feb. 21.—"Is Wall street trying to steal the film industry?"

"Is the mysterious murder of William Desmond Taylor, motion picture director, shot to death in Los Angeles, the thing that will bring into the open the battle of big business for control of the world's fifth greatest industry."

These questions are being asked on all sides, especially in view of the apparent spontaneous attack on the industry, and the skillfully managed plot of malicious attacks which are sweeping the country from end to end. Men who hold belief point to the fact that Henry Ford and the movies are not controlled by Wall street, but that the money interests have been brought into play. It was not until the last two years that Wall street began seriously to take a vital interest in the motion picture industry. The making of pictures involves an enormous outlay of money as in all other big interests.

Only a few months ago in a department of one of the big companies representatives of big business were assembled. It is claimed that they openly boasted they were about to take this whole industry over. Then came a terrific fight, and men whose courage, whose foresight, whose brains created the business, won the victory and regained control of it. On Wall street the men packed up their little bags and went on their way.

Every company has not been so fortunate. Several of the largest producers have gone down in the battle, which appears to have been precipitated by money interests.

It is being pointed out that it is in the fight for control that censorship agitation was begun. This, it is said, was a plan to ruin the industry, and then buy in the wreck. There was no real demand for censorship.

GUMMER TRIAL DRAGS BECAUSE OF SICKNESS OF COUNTY ATTORNEY

(By United Press.)
Valley City, Feb. 21.—With prosecuting attorney Greene again absent, because of illness, an effort was made today to complete the testimony in the William Gummer murder trial before the holiday tomorrow.

Greene's physician forbade him to appear in court again this week, and it is likely arguments will be postponed several days.

Mrs. Minnie Thompson, proprietor of the flat where Andy Brown roomed, refused to make the statement that he called at 6 in the morning after Marie Wick had been murdered. The prosecution, in attempting to convict Gummer of murder, has tried to show that Brown, his pal, knew about it. Marie Wick was killed in a Fargo hotel where Gummer was night clerk.

GRAIN FARMERS GREATLY BENEFITED BY RISE IN PRICE

MOST OF CROP WAS UNSOLD WHEN ADVANCE IN PRICE STARTED

FARMERS' FINANCIAL TROUBLES ARE AT AN END, SAYS PRESIDENT OF ASSOCIATION

(By United Press.)
Minneapolis, Feb. 21.—Grain farmers of the United States have received immeasurable benefit from advancing wheat prices.

Contrary to the general opinion, the farmer had sold practically none of his crop when the advance started, and he has at present sold about one-half of the crop. Farmers should get back on their feet through the sale of what is left.

This is the opinion of Charles Kenning, Bird Island farmer and president of the Farmers' Grain Dealers' association now in session here.

"The end of the farmer for serious financial trouble is in sight," said Kenning. More than three hundred delegates heard his talk.

Mrs. Buell has been prosecutor here since 1915. She is a graduate of the law school of the University of Minnesota.

ORGANIZATION OF FARM LABOR PARTY POSTPONED TO DEC.

DECIDED TO AWAIT THE OUTCOME OF NOVEMBER ELECTIONS BEFORE GOING AHEAD

FREDERICK NEUMEIER
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)

Chicago, Feb. 21.—Organization of a national Farm-Labor political alliance was postponed today until the second Monday in December, by the conference between representatives of the two groups here.

The conference decided to await the outcome of the November elections before going ahead with the national organization. Pending formation of the national, however, the farmers and laborers will work together through state organizations. A committee of fifteen was appointed to report at the December meeting of the national organization scheme.

Plans for "stealing" congress from the old political parties at the spring primaries were discussed. The organization will join other liberals and wage the fight in every state.

The organization will endorse favorable candidates for congress or have one of their own members on either of the old party tickets. The plans are said to be that headed by Arthur C. Townley, president of the National Non-partisan league and reported leader behind the united farmers national bloc. He has decided this action is the most feasible, it is said, as a result of his experiences in North Dakota.

The committee on the program, it is learned, has decided to leave the matter of the program to the individual states. One labor leader expressed a plan when he said "we are going to fight politics and are not going to give politicians or other parties a chance to hang anything on us by having a platform which would be subject to attack."

GORDON, SCOTCH HUMORIST EXCELLS

Delights a Large Audience at the First Presbyterian Church on Monday Evening

PRESBYTERIAN BROTHERHOOD

Gives Dinner in His Honor at Ransford Hotel Earlier in the Evening

W. D. Gordon entertained a large audience last night with sparkling Scotch humor. He was the guest of the Presbyterian Brotherhood, a newly-formed men's organization of that church.

Ten men of the church, M. W. Downie, John A. McKay, A. M. Opsahl, D. K. Fullerton, Ingolf Dillan, W. H. Wagner, W. Smythe, Sid Parker, John E. Jackson, and Rev. S. M. Kelly, represented the Brotherhood at a dinner given at the Ransford hotel in Mr. Gordon's honor.

The meeting at the church opened with a new song to the tune of "The Battle Hymn of the Republic." "This will be the best town (or club) in the whole United States (three times) if I but make it so."

Then Henry I. Cohen in a splendid appeal, ably championed the cause of the famine-stricken Jewish people in Europe and Asia. Wm. E. Anderson rendered a tenor solo, with Miss Marion Opsahl at the piano. The number was encored.

Mr. Gordon was introduced by Rev. Kelly, who has known him for several years. Truly, those who failed to hear Mr. Gordon missed an opportunity that does not come often. He put his rugged, cheery Scotch personality into every remark. Mere print and paper are too cold faithfully to express the humor with which the evening was brim full. A few of his remarks, however, may be suggested.

"A Scotchman keeps the Sabbath—and everything else he can lay his hands on."

"The Scotch are the most economical of people—even in speech."

"A good salesman is one who buys from a Jew and sells to a Scot—with profit."

"A horse race was so close that the horse with a wart on his nose won. A boat race was so close that the boat with a new coat of varnish won by the thickness of the varnish. But the closest race of all—is the Scotch race."

"A Scoteman knocked at the gate of heaven. Says St. Peter, 'What claim have you to heaven?' Answers the Scot, 'I am a Scotchman.' Enter. The Scoteman wanders about for a long time and comes back with the complaint, 'I see no other Scotchmen here.' 'Come here!' says St. Peter, and he took him up a side street to a place where they saw in the far distance a large multitude of people having a wonderfully good time. 'Who are they?' 'Who are they, they are Scotchmen!' 'But why are they over here away from everybody else?' 'Because they are the only people whom God can trust out of His sight.'"

This morning at the high school Mr. Gordon addressed an enthusiastic audience of some 450 students of the high school and upper grades.

RESERVATIONS TO FOUR-POWER PACT WILL BE MADE

By L. C. MARTIN
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)
Washington, Feb. 21—Adoption of reservations to the four-power Pacific treaty by the senate foreign relations committee became virtually certain today.

Senator Brandagee, of Connecticut, offered reservations in the foreign relations committee and the ensuing discussion indicated that it would be adopted, though some modifications may be made.

The reservation prevents the United States government being bound by any agreements under the treaty regarding preservation of other nation's right in the Pacific islands without specific sanction and approval of Congress.

MEXICAN REBELS RECRUITING IN BORDER CITIES

(By United Press.)
Brownsville, Texas, Feb. 21—Recruiting officers for Mexican revolutionary "army of liberation" have been working through the Mexican population in border towns, it was learned today.

Agitators for the revolt, promise a "stable government; removal of taxes on American goods, and removal of extortion on people of Mexico as soon as the Obregon government is overthrown."

MEAT DEALERS ARE WORRIED AT SLUMP IN MEAT CONSUMPTION

(By United Press.)
St. Paul, Feb. 21—Minnesota retail meat dealers are worried.

Consumption of meats has fallen off eighteen to twenty-five per cent during the last six months. Dealers at their annual convention here are trying to determine if inhabitants of the states are becoming vegetarians.

Higher prices for meats this year are predicted.

LIKE WHITE CREPE DE CHINE

The fabric choice for winter dresses continues to center itself around crepe de chine, with white the favorite color employed. There is a little flesh to be seen, but in small percentage. Bisque has a little better showing but does not approach the white in quantity.

Lately the slightly deeper pastel colors have been given more attention, a number of the colors being found among the recommended spring shades. Some of these are used in combination with white, such as flame, mauve, yellow, red and green, with the softer tones employed also for whole blouse models.

Canton crepe reappeared on the blouse horizon, divided about equally between white and the pastel colorings. It is used especially for sports models designed for travel southward. Georgette is still shown and has many effective treatments. The waning status of this silk may be gauged to some extent by the declaration of some blouse authorities that it is "dead." This is an exaggeration, however, as it is well thought of and well used by many manufacturers.

HARTLEY ESTATE NEARLY $3,000,000

Will of Mining and Business Magnate
Former Brainerd Resident, Provides for Family and Others

FIVE CODICILS TO THE WILL

Two Beneficiaries, Brothers, Were Formerly Prominent in Business
Life of Brainerd

Much interest centers on the will of the late Guilford G. Hartley. He was a former Brainerd man and at one time represented this county in the legislature. Two of his beneficiaries are his brothers Wilder W. Hartley and Benjamin F. Hartley, both former Brainerd residents. Wilder W. Hartley was once a postmaster of Brainerd, a former editor of the Brainerd Tribune, and also had a drug store in Brainerd. He also served as clerk of court. He now lives on the Pacific coast. Benjamin F. Hartley was once mayor of Brainerd. He built what was known as the First National Bank block in the early days, also the Hartley block. All three brothers were great workers for the advancement of Brainerd.

An estate valued at $2,777,422 was left by the late Guilford G. Hartley, who died Jan. 17, according to a petition filed in probate court. The estate consists of $1,467,171 in personal property of which $140,000 is in United States Liberty bonds, and real estate valued at $1,310,251.

The will was signed on Aug. 15, 1904, and contains five codicils dated April 6, 1905; Feb. 8, 1917; Feb. 14, 1918; Feb. 21, 1919, and April 23, 1920. It bequeaths $20,000 to charity. This includes $5,000 to be payable to the Rt. Rev. James A. McGolrick or his successor to be used for St. Mary's hospital; $2,500 for St. James' orphanage and a like sum for the Villa Scolastica, where he recommends to be used for the development of agriculture adjacent to the institutions for their benefit; the sum of $50,000 to St. Paul's Episcopal church and a like sum to St. Luke's hospital. The will gives $1,000 to each servant in the household who has been with the family for ten years or more.

Personal Property Provision
The household furniture, horses, vehicle and other personal property used in connection with the home at 1305 East Superior street, except the writing desk, are bequeathed to his widow, Carrie E. Hartley, together with $15,000 yearly for the maintenance of the homestead. Cavour Hartley, a son, is bequeathed the office furniture wearing apparel, jewelry and the writing desk.

The will provides for the payment of $100 each month for the term of their lives to Wilder W. Hartley and Benjamin F. Hartley, brothers, and Mary Rogers, a sister. Mrs. Delia

Woodward is bequeathed $50 each month for the term of her life. These bequests are to be paid from special funds set aside for that purpose, the will provides.

Mrs. Charles N. Clark and Alfar-etta are willed $1,000; Heber L. Hartley, a brother, $5,000, and William H. Burris, $5,000. William Smith, Ball Club, Minn., is willed $100 per year for the term of his life. Smith is asked to act as guide for his son or grandsons during deer hunting season.

The personal effects of Mr. Hartley are to be divided equally among Jessie Hartley, Irma Claypool and Judith H. Lewis, daughters, and Cavour and Guilford Hartley, sons.

The remaining estate, both real and personal, is bequeathed to his widow and children who were 21 years of age or over at the time of his death, and to the other children as they become 21 years of age. The will provides that the remaining estate shall be divided into as many shares as there are children surviving, and to pay over and transfer to his widow her share and portion as soon after the death as is expedient.

Distribution to Children

The remaining estate is to be divided equally among the children, except that Cavour Hartley's share of the remainder shall be one-half larger than the share of either of the other children.

The net annual income of each share shall be paid to each one of the children until they reach the ages of 25 years, when one-half of the share is to be paid. The other half of each child's share is to be paid when they reach the age of 30 years.

The children and widow are made executors of the will. The executors of the estate are given the right to sell any part of the estate if they choose to do so. The executors of the estate are Cavour Hartley, Irma Claypool, Judith H. Lewis, Jessie H. Congdon and Mrs. Hartley.

The Whittier Parent-Teachers Association held its regular meeting on Tuesday, Feb. 14. Bylaws previously drawn up were unanimously adopted.

A reply from D. H. Fullerton, city attorney, relative to the proposed liquor ordinance was read. This letter was printed elsewhere in the Dispatch. The questions replied to were asked after reading, the reasons given by certain aldermen for voting against the ordinance.

Mrs. Gemmell addressed the meeting regarding the establishment of a local dental clinic. The association voted to express to the school board its desire to have such a clinic in the Whittier district.

Dr. B. I. Derauf speaking on first aid for children gave brief suggestions for action in cases of cuts, bruises, fractures, earache, ivy poisoning, nosebleed, prickly heat, sunburn, freezing, poisoning and other emergencies.

The movement to form a central organization of all the Parent-Teachers Associations of the city was reported upon. The idea originated in the Whittier association and was proposed to the others by a committee from that district. One meeting has been held and a tentative constitution drafted.

The purposes of the organization as expressed by this constitution are: To secure closer co-operation of associations interested in child welfare.

To awaken a deeper sense of the responsibility of parents and to bring about conditions under which the child will develop mentally, morally and physically to its fullest extent.

To bring parents and teachers in closer relation that they may cooperate intelligently in the education of the child.

FARMERS FAVOR GASOLINE TAX

The St. Cloud Journal-Press, which enthusiastically defended the Babcock motor tax law when it was before the people, has seen a great light and is now as ably, and no doubt as sincerely, championing a gasoline tax to take the place of the present unpopular tax. The government tax on automobiles when purchased, added to the annual state tax under the Babcock law, makes the burden pretty heavy for the car owner, who is the only one taxed for the building of public highways. This in itself is unfair; but there is much more in the Babcock law that is unfair, unjust and decidedly irregular.

It is probably because of these irregularities and inconsistencies, which experience has amply demonstrated, that the Journal-Press now declares for "a tax on gasoline for the trunk road fund to reduce somewhat the direct tax on automobiles." Some fourteen states," says the Journal-Press, "now have such a tax, and are raising a great deal of revenue without any burden on any one, and with very little expense."

The Journal-Press took the pains to canvass the farmers of Stearns county on the subject and found that they are pretty well united in favor of such a tax. The small amount of gasoline used in other ways is not considered sounds reason against a tax that has so many other things to commend it. The theory of the farmers, as gathered by the Journal-Press, "is that a tax of one cent a gallon would permit of a reduction on the license fee, and that those who used the highways the most would pay the most, and that tourists who have the benefit of Minnesota's splendid highways would be glad to contribute something to their upkeep"—and why shouldn't they indeed?

The Journal-Press thus disposes of the claim that the farmers are opposed to the gasoline tax, and adds: "If the opinion of the Stearns county farmers is that of their brothers of the rest of the State, those who favor a tax on gas need not hesitate for fear of offending the farmers."

Hon. Mike Holm, who has given the matter a great deal of study and investigation, takes little stock in the constitutional prohibition," says the J.-P.

"KEEP IT OUT"

(Exchange)

Almost every day we get a request to "keep it out of the paper." And we want to say that while the same thing is heard in every newspaper office it is a great mistake. Full and free publicity on anything is a help to it. There is no more effective way of killing false rumors and conjectures than to have the straight of it printed in the newspapers. And on the other hand, nothing makes trouble quicker and causes more misunderstanding than "keeping it dark." Our experience has proved to us that the plain statement of fact is not only due the public, but it is the only safe plan. We believe in this policy so much that we are certain if anything should happen to us, no matter how disastrous it might be, the first thing we would think of would be to see that the newspapers got the straight of it and got it at once. Anything but "keeping it out." It's bad enough for the people to know about it, but to have them conjecturing and guessing and surmising is a thousand times worse.

WAGES MAY REMAIN INTACT

Reports from Chicago are to the effect that the members of the Labor Board have a strong impression, based upon recent informal conferences with railroad executives, that the wages of trainmen and engineers will remain virtually intact indefinitely in consideration of certain concessions in working rules and the elimination of overtime tentatively promised by the brotherhood chiefs.

The railroads, it is said, have no dread of a strike in which train and engine crews would not participate. Any strike by other classes of railroad employees, it is claimed, could be easily taken care of, and without sympathetic aid from the big brotherhoods, the menace of a coal miners' strike would be greatly minimized.

The union officials no doubt will feel fairly secure in their positions if they show the rank and file of their membership that wages have been protected.

NATIONAL EDUCATION ASSOCIATION

The chief topics to come up for consideration at the annual meeting of the National Education Association, opening at Chicago next Monday, will be: types of education the country requires; what physical property will be necessary to insure its promotion; what technique in education may be expected from the advanced curricula; how much education can the country afford; how much more can we secure for our money through elimination of wasteful processes and organization; and what benefits shall accrue to the children of the United States through public education.

The National Council of Education and other groups allied with the Department of Superintendence of the National Association will be in session during the same week. Many prominent educators of the country are to deliver addresses.

CONFERENCE OF WOMEN

The representative women of the country who are prominent in the work of the many women's organizations do not appear to be as much interested in Europe and the Far East as they are in their desire to knit the Americas closer together. No other subject seems to be engrossing more of their attention at this time.

The Pan-American Conference of Women, to be held under the auspices of the League of Women Voters, in Baltimore, is arousing considerable attention. Delegates are coming from Canada, Cuba and all the Latin American republics to meet with women of the United States in Baltimore and Washington. Many of them will no doubt also make trips to other cities. Their visit to this country is looked forward to with much interest and pleasure by the fair sex generally.

ENCOURAGING FINANCIAL STATEMENT

A statement issued by the White House shows the "most satisfactory condition in the financial affairs of the country," since the conclusion of 1919. An analysis of the Dec. 31 bank call issued by Comptroller of the Currency Crissinger records the total resources of the national banks on that date, exclusive of rediscounts, at $19,420,000,000. This was an increase of $406,000,000 over the previous call in September.

The statement says the condition shown in the December call "demonstrates that the process of liquidation has been proceeding at such an excellent rate that it may fairly be said that we are well on the road to getting the 'frozen credits' thawed out."

The Duluth newspapers boast that the Zenith City is going to show the business and professional women of Minnesota that it should be accorded the "ace" of convention cities. The next state convention of the Minnesota Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs will be held there in June.

Hoot Gibson in 'Headin' West' Splendid Subject for Veterans Benefit Show at Lyceum

Laughs are in order for those who see "Headin' West," the Universal photoplay of the new west in which Hoot Gibson is starred at the Lyceum last time tonight.

The star's broad grin and his nerve are put to good use in the action of a breezy story written by Harvey Gates and directed by William Craft. From the beginning the familiar Gibson smile is called for by one situation after another, and the only better smile is the audience's when the humor strikes home.

Entering the story from the top—via airplane and parachute—the hero's first adventure is trying to ride a bucking broncho on which a saddle has been strapped over a thorn with great care. From then on the split is fifty-fifty between humor and thrills.

However, it is not all snappy com-

PRISCILLA DEAN in a striking scene from "CONFLICT" A UNIVERSAL JEWEL PICTURE

Strong Cast in New Dean Film "Conflict"

Priscilla Dean, the popular star of "Outside the Law" and "Reputation," will be seen at the New Park Wednesday, Thursday and Friday in her newest and greatest picture "Conflict," produced under Stuart Paton. It comes to the screen with one of the strongest casts ever assembled to support a popular star.

It was only after considerable difficulty that Herbert Rawlinson was obtained to play the principle role opposite the star. Straight from his success in "The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse," Edward Connelly was chosen for the leading character role—the interpretation of the subtle "John Remalie" of the story. Martha Mattox was engaged to portray the part of Miss Labo, the grim and silent housekeeper, and Stuart Paton considers her work one of the most distinctive characterizations ever screened.

In addition to these well-known players are to be seen Hector Sarno, L. C. Shumway, Sam Allen and Capt. C. E. Anderson, all with a large screen following, and each admirably suited to the individual roles.

"Conflict" came to the attention of thousands of readers when it was published in the Red Book Magazine from the pen of Clarence Budington Kelland. Realizing the wonderful screen possibilities of the story, Universal purchased it and Stuart Paton was assigned to direct from the continuity by George C. Hull.

The story is especially fitted to the personality of Miss Dean, who handles it with marked ability and ingenuity.

Men With Small Feet.

It has been discovered that men with small feet are those who are fond of amusements. They do not, according to science, make the best husbands. Men with larger feet appear to measure up better.

"AMERICAN MORTGAGE LIFTER" IS PUREBRED HOG

Minnesota has 178,478 farms with 669,974 head of breeding hogs, according to the United States census of 1920, which means that it only has 3.8 hogs per farm. According to the census there were 627,745 pigs and 1,083,143 feeding hogs, which brings the average up to 13.3 head per farm of all kinds of hogs for the state of Minnesota; only 99,443 head of the total were pure-bred animals, all breeds included.

The State Fair Board of Minnesota have been endeavoring to correct this situation by inducing exhibitions of swine at the State Fair, each year which stimulate interest in the American mortgage lifter. According to T. H. Canfield, secretary of the Minnesota State fair, arrangements have been made with the Poland China Breed Promotion committee, Peoria, Illinois for a $1,000 Futurity Show. The prizes in the Poland China open classes at the Minnesota State fair in 1921 amounted to $800. Such purses in addition to the money guaranteed by the Poland China Breed Promotion Committee, will make a Poland China puree for 1922 of $1,800, which will insure a large exhibit.

Breeders will be eligible to compete for the premiums in the Futurity show on condition that they nominate their herd by March 15th with the Poland China Breed Promotion Committee, by the payment of $5.00, and according to the plan there must be no less than twenty (20) herds nominated for the state fair show.

Breeders in adjoining states, where there is a Futurity show, are eligible to enter their herds. Animals which are exhibited in the Futurity show are also eligible to open classes of the fair. This large premium list assures a large exhibition of swine at the coming state fair.

The United States census report shows that 65,083 farms of the 178,478 in Minnesota are mortgaged. It appears that the "American Mortgage Lifter" has opportunity to spread in Minnesota where there are only 3.8 head of breeding stock per farm in the entire state.

Cape Costumes for Sports.

The cape costume has made strides in popularity lately, especially in tweeds and other sports wear fabrics. One shopper wore a brown homespun cape, short at the front and falling below the hips at the back, over a frock with the brown material for front and back panel and circular sections of brown and white plaid for the sides of the skirt, this plaid also collaring the cape.

STUBBLING IN

The practice of stubbling in wheat or drilling the seeds directly in the stubble of the previous crop, which is often practiced, is at best a makeshift method the use of which is justified only by circumstances making impracticable a more thorough preparation of the seed bed on account of long continued bad weather, lack of horse power or labor.

Germination Test

WILL YOUR SEED WHEAT GROW?

There are a great many reasons why wheat may not germinate, either from dampness, from mold, from disease, from being bin burnt, etc., and yet there are very few farmers who take the precautions to count on 100 seeds from various parts of their seed stock and test them for germination.

It is a very simple thing to do: Take an ordinary plate or saucer, fold in a piece of cloth or ordinary blotting paper; wet thoroughly and keep damp for seven or eight days and note the germination and growth of the 100 kernels. This will give you the percentage. Wheat that merely sprouts, within six or seven days and does not throw out strong shoot and root, should put you on your guard. The chances are that something has impaired the germination and you should not sow such wheat. If you don't test for germination, you may sacrifice all your profit. If you desire to have your seed wheat tested for you, send a sample to the Seed Laboratory at your Agricultural College. There is no charge for these tests.

SEED TESTING IS FREE

Send Samples to Your Agricultural College for Identification and Germination.

Although the testing of seed wheat is a very simple process, it is a good idea for any farmer to send a sample to the State Agricultural College Seed Laboratory, asking at the same time regarding the variety and purity of the sample.

There is no charge for this service and every farmer ought to know what he is planting and how strong it will grow.

To receive the greatest benefit from this service, all persons sending in samples of seed should plainly mark each separate sample. A letter should be mailed at the same time, stating the number of samples submitted, how each is marked and the kind of test desired—whether for purity, germination, identification or all three.

A still better way is to enclose an ounce or so of each sample in envelopes and enclose them in a salt sack with the letter inside the sack.

It is always wise to send in all seed samples just as early as possible. The rush season in seed testing begins about January 15 and lasts until March.

To decide the variety, its purity and its germination, may mean the difference between success and failure in your wheat crop this year.

GOOD MILLING WHEAT ALWAYS BRINGS A PREMIUM

No. 1 hard dark Northern is the best bread making wheat in the world. The ideal wheat for milling should weigh 58 pounds or more; should contain 14 per cent of bread gluten of the proper quality; should be hard and vitreous, of a dark red color, free from yellow berry; free from disease, especially smut and scab. It should be cleaned and free from cockle, king-head, mustard, wild peas, rye, barley, other varieties of spring wheat, durum and especially red durum.

This is the kind of wheat that millers want and are willing to pay for. It is no uncommon occurrence for millers to bid 25 cents to 40 cents per bushel more for such wheat. Even our seed wheat is badly mixed. While much of it purports to be Marquis, yet it is mixed with the seed of other varieties of wheat and other grains which are mostly inseparable.

The tendency for years has been to raise as large a yield with as little work as possible. Farmers have been urged by advisors, who should know better, to sacrifice quality for yield and there is very little wheat of any kind in the spring wheat territory which is not contaminated by weed seeds and disease in addition to the mixtures which lower its value as milling wheat.

Marquis wheat has become established as the most desirable variety available at present in nearly all parts of the spring wheat states. The territory where Marquis can profitably be grown centers in the Red river valley and covers nearly all of North Dakota, the northeast quarter of South Dakota, and a well defined region extending northwest and southeast in Minnesota, about 120 counties in all, although there are other regions in certain years where good milling wheat is raised.

There may be and doubtless are a few localities where it is not profitable to grow Marquis wheat but it may be safely stated that there is no place where good spring wheat has ever been raised where it may not be raised again, provided the three great diseases, rust, scab and smut be eliminated.

Wheat does not "run out." It may be bred and quality improved the same as in animal husbandry. There are farmers in every community who farm on business principles, who year in and year out make a great deal of money and yet there are slipshod farmers who trust entirely to luck who seldom, if ever, make a continued success; and yet farming must be a wonderful business because, in spite of its abuse, the land seldom is abandoned wherever it has been in cultivation.

The cost of raising spring wheat can never be determined unless a cost system of accounting can be introduced.

BARNYARD MANURE

Manure applied as a top dressing should be spread evenly and lightly. A manure spreader is almost indispensable for this purpose, although with care it can be spread by hand although much more laborious. It is usually best to apply it after the ground is plowed and work it into the soil with a disk and harrow as the seed bed is prepared. Manure does not decay as rapidly when plowed under as when applied as a top dressing and is therefore not as beneficial. Also, where it is plowed under there is danger of producing a loose open seed bed which may result in injury to the crop by drying out.

Barnyard manure alone is strong in nitrogen and while it has been claimed that live stock on the farm will supply all of the fertilizer necessary for wheat, yet the bones of the animals sold from the farms remove more phosphates than a wheat crop itself and it would be therefore necessary to add phosphates either in the shape of 16 per cent acid phosphate at 200 pounds or, better, a treble superphosphate at the rate of 75 to 125 pounds per acre. These phosphates will not be wasted even if put on in a larger ratio.

In other words, barnyard manure is generally the most satisfactory fertilizer for wheat but in most cases it is more profitable to use it in connection with acid phosphate.

PROFIT IN WHEAT

Farmers complain that the price they get for their wheat is less than it costs.

This is probably so, but without cost keeping or proper methods it is hard to state whether it is necessarily so. In any event, if the bulk of the wheat carelessly grown in this nation's wilderness is of inferior quality, nobody can be blamed for the lowness of the price as long as this mongrel wheat drags the market down.

Seed wheat should be cleaned and wheat should go to the market cleaned. The easiest way to send clean seed to the market is to keep the weed seeds and other dockage out of the field. Somebody has to clean up this inferior wheat and the cost of it must necessarily be charged all the way back to the man who grew the wheat and sent it to the market in a foul condition.

Treatment Increases Yield.
The formaldehyde treatment of the seed frequently increases the yield more than would be naturally expected from simply replacing the smutted heads with sound ones. A substantial gain is made from the use of formaldehyde. Increases of over four bushels per acre have been found in spring wheat in which only a little over one and one-half bushels were actually destroyed by smut. This is probably due to the fact that the grain is affected by other seed-borne parasites than smut and scab, and which are as effectively checked by the treatment.

If wheat is scabby, there is danger of a recurrence, as scab also lives in the soil as well as on the seed.

PROTECTING WHEAT AFTER HARVEST

Quality depends greatly on the way the wheat is handled after it is ripe. Permitting the grain to get wet in shocks or racks is responsible for much loss. As a result of exposure to rain and sun, sprouting, molding, heating in the stack or bin, some or all of which are practically sure to take place when wheat is not promptly threshed or carefully stacked, are of common occurrence. Wheat must go through the sweat and it is undoubtedly better and more profitable to thresh from the stack than from the shock even though it may be a little more work in the first instance.

Threshing green or damp wheat and putting it directly into the bin will almost certainly result in a loss. It pays to produce quality wheat and it is a burning shame to neglect the crop after it is produced.

Measurement of Ear Corn.

There seems to be no general standard measurement of ear corn. In some parts of the country the custom is to figure double the quantity of ear corn to that of shelled corn. The standard United States bushel contains 2,150.4 cubic inches, so in measuring ear corn the bushel would be 4,300.8 cubic inches. The weight of a bushel of dry ear corn is seventy pounds in every state except Indiana and Ohio, in which it is sixty-eight pounds, and Mississippi, in which it is seventy-two pounds.

High Seas.

The term "high seas" is the open sea or ocean. The claims of various nations to exclusive rights and control over extensive tracts of the ocean highways have been settled after much controversy by a general international law. The principle now accepted is that the jurisdiction of maritime states extends only for three miles off their own coasts; the remainder of the seas being high seas, accessible on equal terms to all nations. Inland seas and estuaries, of course, are excepted.

DRUGS EXCITE YOUR KIDNEYS, USE SALTS

If Your Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers, Drink Lots of Water

When your kidneys hurt and your back feels sore, don't get scared and proceed to load your stomach with a lot of drugs that excite the kidneys and irritate the entire urinary tract. Keep your kidneys clean like you keep your bowels clean, by flushing them with a mild, harmless salts which removes the body's urinous waste and stimulates them to their normal activity. The function of the kidneys is to filter the blood. In 24 hours they strain from it 500 grains of acid and waste, so we can readily understand the vital importance of keeping the kidneys active.

Drink lots of water—you can't drink too much; also get from any pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning for a few days and your kidneys will act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate clogged kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean and active. Try this, also keep up the water drinking, and no doubt you will wonder what became of your kidney trouble and backache.
